

Westerly Marina

Art DeMarchis, age 96 has got to be the oldest hardest working owner of a marine based industry in the US.

Westerly Marina, is one of the largest full service marinas on the east side of the Hudson River in Ossining, NY.

“Arty” as everyone calls him, arrives at work every morning, rain, shine or snow, and with four generations of family working at this full service marina, discusses what they are going to do that day or in the near future.

There is a certain respect given to “Arty” by the rest of the family members that you will find very rare in today’s society. If you visit Westerly Marine when the family members are gathered around you will understand what I mean.

It is always a pleasure to visit this marina.

Artie

somewhere back in the early 60's

25 ton marine travelift