

TWO POEMS

BY NANCY TAYLOR

*S*pecial people are the most delightful of all - they see rainbows where clouds could have gone, and in the darkness they hold the daylight to a world where only beauty surrounds Special people always sparkle - they radiate a knowing kind of joy that sees beyond tomorrow and heeds to no sorrow Special people are always peaceful and secure - for their world is only filled with love that opens every door
You are Special People
To me....

I send you love today - because you know that rainbows are more precious than gold...
I send you love today - because you know blue skies will always break thru and dry away tear stained clouds....
I send you love today - because you know daisies are more beautiful free, reflected on canvas,
catching the first morning light, swaying gently to a soft breeze and then nodding goodnight in the twilight of a wide open field and a pillow of stars...
with butterflies to color your day and heighten your senses, to celebrate the specialness of you that floods from my heart with LOVE for you today....

Happy Spring!
